A 13-YEAR-OLD boy from Ely has been slapped with an Asbo.

The order will help keep John Stone-Parker's behaviour in check for the next two years.

The decision was made at Cambridge Juvenile Court, sitting at Cambridge Magistrates' Court.

Stone-Parker is now prohibited from possessing or consuming alcohol in a public place and being carried on a motor scooter or motorcycle.

He is also banned from going onto anyone's property without permission and engaging in any behaviour which causes nuisance, harassment, alarm or distress to others, or is threatening, abusive or insulting to others in Ely.

Brian Tully, anti-social behaviour coordinator for East Cambridgeshire Community Safety Partnership, said: "Asbos are designed to be preventative, not punitive."

"We want to bring an end to the episodes of anti-social behaviour for which John Stone-Parker has been responsible, and which have disrupted life for residents of Ely."

"The restrictions imposed by the court are intended to provide protection to people who should be able to go about their everyday business without the unpleasantness of encountering, or being the victims of, anti-social behaviour."

Hats top off half term fun

WEIRD and wonderful hats were the order of the day as families learned to create their own distinctive headwear.

Environmental artist Jane Frost led a two-day hat-making workshop in Ely's Olive Tree Centre, where residents had the chance to showcase their millinery skills.

The hats were made from recycled textiles, such as old curtains, while people also had the chance to sew their own cushion covers during the half-term event.

Jane, from Littleport, said: "All the items were very impressive and people were very keen to have a go on the sewing machines. It was all about encouraging people to sew more – we're far too ready to throw out our old materials, rather than recycling them."

Double trouble for learner

A LITTLEPORT man will have six points put on his driving licence the moment he passes his test.

Samuel Flack was caught driving a car without L-plates or supervision on the A142 at Stuntney on December 30.

Four days later, police nabbed the 19 year old driving a motorbike along Ten Mile Bank without an MOT certificate or insurance.

Flack, of Fishers Bank, pleaded guilty to two counts of driving without a licence, driving without third party insurance and driving without a test certificate when he appeared at Ely Magistrates' Court.

He told the bench: "It had been a bad week and I was not really thinking right."

"I know it was a ridiculously stupid thing to do."

Flack, who has recently been made redundant, was fined £135 with £35 court costs and a £15 victim surcharge.

Magistrates also ordered that six penalty points be added to his licence when he passes his driving test.

Fair visitors get a taste of summer in the sun

STRAWBERRIES and cream was the dish of the day in Ely last weekend.

Families and tourists were treated to a taste of summer when the traditional Etheldreda Fair was held on the city's Palace Green.

The event is held annually to raise money for the Ely Cathedral Choir Tour Fund, for a trek around Europe in 2010.

Visitors to the fair were offered champagne, strawberries and cream, homemade cakes and ice creams. There were also a wide range of plant, produce and craft stalls.

Hostel attack man made threat to kill

TEENAGERS were left terrified after a man went berserk at a hostel for young people, a court heard.

Jamie Webb repeatedly punched and headbutted the front door of Ely Young People's Project hostel at around midnight on May 17.

The 24 year old had threatened to kill one of the residents after an argument, Ely magistrates heard.

Laura Mardell, prosecuting, said: "At around 9.30pm Harry Baker was at the skatepark in St John's Road, Ely, when he saw Mr Webb cycle past."

"Mr Webb went towards Mr Baker in an intimidating manner and was trying to get him to start fighting. But Mr Baker

BY JORDAN DAY

Email: editorial@elyweeklynews.co.uk

did not respond to any of it as he did not want any trouble."

Webb, of the city's Abbots Way, then tried to headbutt Mr Baker but he was able to duck away.

Mrs Mardell added: "Mr Webb also threw a couple of punches at the victim. Mr Baker was in shock and tried to walk away but Mr Webb just kept coming back at him looking for a fight."

Webb then told Mr Baker, "I am going to kill you eventually," before finally leaving the skatepark.

Three hours later, Mr Baker heard

Webb shouting his name outside the hostel where he lives.

Webb shouted: "Harry Baker come outside" before punching the front door with his hands and headbutting the glass, Mrs Mardell added.

The bench heard how a member of staff at the hostel was forced to gather residents together and take them into an office for safety.

Mrs Mardell said: "The member of staff and residents were shaken and in fear. They were scared for their safety."

Webb pleaded guilty to assault by beating and using behaviour to cause fear of unlawful violence.

The case was adjourned for pre-sentence reports. Webb will appear before magistrates again on June 18.

Pamper day will help fund teen care

A LUXURIOUS spa will be pampering residents to help raise money for a children's cancer charity.

Spa Ely, on the city's Fore Hill, will open its doors for the major fundraising event on Saturday.

New and existing clients are invited to enjoy a range of treatments, including facials, pedicures and mini makeovers.

All proceeds from the day will be donated to cancer charity CLIC Sargent.

Someone who knows the importance of taking time to unwind is Soham mum Sarah Fairhurst, whose son Liam, 14, was diagnosed with cancer in 2005.

She said: "As a mum I know how important it is to take time out for yourself once in a while and I cannot think of a better way to chill-out than spending a day having massages, facials and manicures!"

"CLIC Sargent has helped my family immensely while Liam battles with cancer, so please take this opportunity to raise money for the charity - to help more families when they need it the most."

The pampering day will run from 10am-4pm.

To book treatments or for more information, call (01353) 664662.

Pitch battle looms as residents reject camp

BY JACK GROVE

Email: editorial@elyweeklynews.co.uk

TRAVELLERS have launched a fresh bid for a new camp site, despite overwhelming opposition from residents.

Plans for three caravans and one utility block at a disused builders' yard in Hod Hall Lane, Haddenham, have attracted 40 letters of objection from villagers who fear it could become a magnet for illegally parked caravans – dubbing it “the new Smithy Fen”.

Haddenham Parish Council has also raised 19 different points of concern regarding the plans, while local councillors Ian Allen, Bill Hunt and Pauline Wilson have all spoken out against the scheme.

The increased risk of flooding and problems with vehicle access and sewage have been among reasons cited by residents for planners to turn down the application.

CLP Pauline Wilson was particularly worried about the applicant's desire to allow travelling caravans to stay on a nearby field, which could lead to more permanent camps.

She said: “This sounds to me like this field is going to end up like Smithy Fen, in Cottenham, which has dozens of caravans. The size of the clearing could very well end up with seven pitches on it, not just one.

“This site is a nature reserve and should not be used as a travellers' site.”

Many residents have also claimed that the application to East Cambridgeshire District Council is exactly the same as one that was rejected just five months ago.

The application for four pitches has now been reduced to one, although residents say this pitch is the same size as the previous four combined.

Haddenham district councillor Ian Allen, who is also the council's travellers' champion, believed planning officers were right to recommend the refusal of this latest application.

He said: “There is very little difference between this application and the last – the concrete footprint is basically the same.

“If the application had come forward with a reduced size pitch, then officers could have considered approval, but that isn't the case.”

But the Essex-based travellers look set to fight the recommendations after submitting a 38-page dossier outlining reasons why the pitch should be granted.

The plans will be considered at the council's planning meeting in the council chamber in Nutholt Road next Wednesday at 2pm.

Young ones on fun-filled break

Crowned queen: Georgia Gabb, 5.

PARENTS breathed a sigh of relief in the Ely area over half term.

Everything from fancy dress workshops to sport sessions kept youngsters entertained over the break.

Sue Ryder Care and Burrows Bookshop joined forces and held fairy-themed activities over two days.

Children were treated to magical songs, stories, poems and face painting, with all funds going directly to the charity.

There were also fun skate sessions at Littleport Leisure Centre, historic activities at Ely's Oliver Cromwell House and a local band showcase event for budding musicians at The Maltings.

Phillip Turner, leisure and community services team leader at East Cambridgeshire District Council, said: “Some times people look at half term holidays with a little dread, wondering what they can do as a family to keep everyone happy.

“But there were so many things going on in the area that proved half term holidays can be something to look forward to.”

Court tells teen to stay off alcohol and scooters

Under orders: John Stone-Parker, 13, will be the subject of an Asbo for the next two years.

■ From Page 1

“I hope he will respond positively to the order, and see it as a turning point in his life.

“The consequence of failing to comply can be serious.

“Breach of an Asbo is a criminal offence, and can result in a significant financial penalty, or imprisonment.”

The order was welcomed by John Yates, chairman of the Ely Neighbourhood Panel, a quarterly public consultation event.

He said: “Anti-social behaviour in Ely has been identified as a policing priority at successive neighbourhood panel meetings.

“Anti-social behaviour is simply not welcome in Ely and the neighbourhood panel process recognised the need to address this particular concern.

“We have invested in facilities for young people and I believe that young and old can co-exist happily.

“But we will support enforcement action, such as this Asbo, when it is appropriate.

“I hope this will make a significant contribution to improving his neighbourhood.”

Any breach of the order should be reported to police on 0845 456 4564.

Teen faces court over death crash

A TEENAGER has appeared in court charged with causing death by dangerous driving. Issac Playford, 18, of Mill End Road, Cambridge, is accused of causing the death of 17-year-old Sarah Oldham.

Sarah, of The Row, Sutton, died after being involved in a car crash on the A142 at Mepal on January 14.

She was described by her father Mike, 49, as a “beautiful and bubbly girl”.

Playford appeared at Cambridge Crown Court last week but the case was adjourned for a plea and case management hearing on Friday, August 7.

Playford was released on unconditional bail.

Lottery pulls in £29k for church

A LOTTERY club set up to pay for essential repairs to a village church has raised more than £40,000.

The 250 Club celebrated the impressive milestone, which has seen it donate £29,288 to St Andrew's Church, in Sutton, and pay out £10,800 in prize money over the past 18 years.

There are 10 remaining tickets for this year's draw. Funds raised will be used to pay for urgent repairs to external stonework and to replace floor tiling in the nave. For more details, call (01353) 778458.

Village set for fete festivities

EXCITEMENT is building in Little Downham as residents prepare for the village's summer fete. Saturday's event will be the first of its kind the village has hosted for many years. The fete will run on the recreation ground from noon-4pm with a wide range of stalls, shows and games. There will also be children's entertainment, live bands, Star Radio's road show, a licensed beer tent and lots of refreshments. Anyone interested in holding a car boot stall must book in advance at a cost of £5. For more information, call Nadine on (01353) 699426.

Date set for assault case

A MAN has been committed to Crown court after being charged with seriously assaulting a fellow employee. Steven Downham, 45, is accused of occasioning actual bodily harm on Graham Fish in Wilburton on March 3. Downham, of Ferndale, Teversham, pleaded not guilty to assault at Ely Magistrates' Court last Thursday. The bench ordered the case to be heard at Cambridge Crown Court on July 9. He was released on unconditional bail.

Man faces sex assault charge

AN ELY man accused of sexually assaulting a woman has appeared before court. Ian Bonnet, of Holly Walk, is charged with sexually touching the victim without her consent at Littleport Leisure Centre on May 2. The 41 year old entered a not guilty plea at Ely Magistrates' Court last week. The case was adjourned for a pre-trial review and will be heard at the same courthouse on August 6. Bonnet was released on conditional bail, preventing him from attending the leisure centre.

Learn guitar for just £1

GUITAR workshops will be held in Ely on Wednesday, June 17. Running at the Garage Youth Club, on Chapel Street, anyone aged nine to 18 is welcome. The session will run from 7.30-9.30pm and the cost is just £1. For more information, call (01353) 611591.

Pupils build up funds for life-changing journey

PRIVILEGED pupils will be helping to put a roof over the heads of people less fortunate than themselves. A 10-strong team of sixth-formers from the City of Ely Community College are preparing themselves for a life-changing trip to Zambia. Working for the charity Habitat for Humanity, the students will be using their October half-term break to build a home for a needy African family. The group will be led by Mark Sirot-Smith, college director, and Jody Lapish, head of Year 7. Mr Sirot-Smith said: "We have a great bunch of students here and whilst they are going to be working very hard in Zambia, they are sure to gain an awful lot from the experience.

"They will be living in a completely different environment and making a real difference to the lives of another family." An estimated 60 per cent of Zambia's population still live in squalid conditions in remote, rural areas. Families are often crowded into a single room, which usually also serves as a kitchen.

The team will be building a basic house using burnt bricks and corrugated iron roofing sheets. The recipients of the house will purchase it with an interest free loan from Habitat, which they pay back in the form of rent. This money is then put towards building another home in the community. As part of the project, the students are required to raise the money to cover the trip and are now busy planning a series of fundraising activities. If you are able to sponsor the team or donate supplies, call the college on (01353) 652818. For more information about Habitat for Humanity, visit www.habitatforhumanity.org.uk

Dog owner locked up after attack

A MAN who broke a dog's leg in a vicious attack has been put behind bars after an RSPCA prosecution. Andy Williams, 27, of Deerfield Road, March, was given a 12-week custodial sentence by Wisbech magistrates and banned from keeping a pet for 10 years after attacking his English bull terrier. Williams, who denied the assault, was caught by his neighbours punching, throwing and dragging his dog. They said that the dog ran away from Williams in Deerfield Road. They caught the dog and Williams came to retrieve her. But, as he walked away, he punched the dog, threw her to the ground and punched her again. Police and the RSPCA were called and the dog was taken to a vet for treatment. Insp Richard Lythgoe said of the sentence: "This is a very good result, it really is the best we could have hoped for. "We hope this will send the right message out to other people who may intentionally hurt animals."

Cameras to go up on fen road

WORK has started to install average speed check cameras on a notorious fenland road. Earth works started at the Forty Foot Bank Road, between Ramsey and Chatteris last week. New technology means that the cameras do not need the dedicated hard wired link between cameras required by previous systems, making it better for installing along the banks, which are unstable. The unstable nature of the banks means the earth-works are being carried out in advance of the piling and foundation works and installation of the camera system, scheduled for later this summer. Amanda Mays, road safety engineering team leader for Cambridgeshire County Council, said: "This is the first time the county council has ever used average speed cameras on our roads. "Using the latest technology means that it is a county first and we are at the forefront within the UK as well."

Crash driver loses bid to stay on road

A ROOFER has been banned from driving after failing to stop at the scene of an accident – for the second time. Stephen Neal, of High Barns, Ely, was disqualified for nine months in August 2007 after her crashed his car but did not stop. But the 22 year old did the same on April 4 this year after colliding with a garden fence and telegraph pole in Ely Road, causing it to snap in half. "Officers managed to trace Mr Neal." Neal told police he had lost control of the car after seeing two youths walking along the road. The car behind him had its full beams on, so he swerved to miss them but subsequently lost control. With seven points on his licence from the incident in 2007, Neal pleaded exceptional hardship with the bench in a bid to stop them from banning him. Unrepresented, he said: "My life is in a mess at the moment. "I need to continue working as I am in thousands of pounds worth of debt. "Without my licence I will struggle with everything." But magistrates banned Neal for six months. He was also fined £100 and ordered to pay £35 court costs.

BY JORDAN DAY

Littleport. Neal pleaded guilty to failing to stop at the scene of a road accident at Ely Magistrates' Court last Thursday. Laura Mardell, prosecuting, said: "Officers were called to the collision and found an MG Z5 with extensive damage. "The car had collided with a fence and then into the pole,

Parents' call to fix a growing problem

FURIOUS parents are demanding action to tidy up a neglected play area in Ely.

Families in Columbine Road and neighbouring streets say they have been forced out of the recreation ground there because the grass is too long.

As a result, dog owners are not picking up their pets' mess from the field and the play area has become "inaccessible".

Barratts Housing, the developers of the site, is responsible for the maintenance of the open space but its landscapers have gone into administration.

East Cambridgeshire District Council is considering taking over the land from the administrators but no one is currently responsible for the site.

Mother-of-four Sophie

BY JORDAN DAY

Email: editorial@elyweeklynews.co.uk

Martin, of Columbine Road, believes the council should cut the grass, even though it does not own the land.

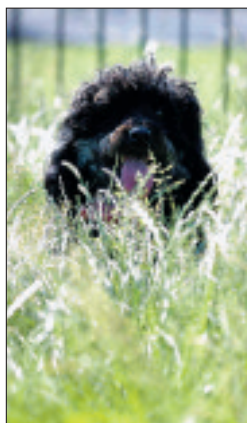

She said: "It is disgusting that we pay our council tax and the council cannot even be bothered to come out and cut the grass."

"With four young children, the play area is perfect for me and other mums to take them to play in."

"But for weeks now we have been forced off there because the grass is so high – it must be around two feet now."

"It is being left to go wild and soon it will be too overgrown to do anything with."

"Even though the council is not yet responsible, I think it should maintain it for the benefit of people in Ely."

Another resident, Michelle Beveridge, said: "I have two children and our house faces the park and fields."

"It is terrible and currently looks like a hay meadow."

"Something has got to be done – even dog owners have stopped picking up after their animals now as they think it can just be hidden in the long grass."

But a spokesman from the district council said no work would be done on the site until the council had ownership of the land.

He said: "We are in the process of adopting this open space in the west of Ely and as part of that we are looking into ownership."

"The area is not our responsibility yet and we have no duty to manage the area."

"However, we do understand residents' concerns, and this is why we have taken the positive step in trying to obtain the land, for the benefit of everyone."

A spokesman for Barratts said: "I can confirm that we do not have any responsibility for any open spaces in Ely's Columbine Road."

Teen faces smuggling charges in Bolivia

A TEENAGER from Manea has been arrested in Bolivia on suspicion of drug smuggling.

Hairdresser Zoe Shepherd, 19, is being held in custody while waiting to hear whether she will be charged with any offence, said North East Cambridgeshire MP Malcolm Moss.

Foreign Office officials said the teenager was arrested in Santa Cruz on April 13.

Mr Moss said Miss Shepherd had been visited by a member of the British Consulate in Bolivia who was doing all he could to help her family.

"Staff from the consulate have been to see her and they are in touch," Mr Moss said.

"She is able to talk to her family."

"Some relatives came to see me and I have been in touch with the Foreign Office and I will do what I can to help."

Mr Moss said he thought that Miss Shepherd had been arrested on suspicion of trying to smuggle cocaine.

"My understanding is that she has been arrested and is waiting to hear whether she will be charged," he said.

"I'm not sure where she is."

A Foreign Office spokesman said "consular support" was being provided and staff were in touch with relatives.

Woman is killed on rail crossing

A WOMAN has died after being struck by a train.

Police have yet to release the woman's name but a coroner's inquest was due to be opened and adjourned this week.

The victim was hit at the Sandhills Level Crossing in Victoria Street, Littleport, last Wednesday.

British Transport Police (BTP) were called to the incident at 3.24pm along with Cambridgeshire Police, fire crews and paramedics.

The train involved was the 2.56pm King's Lynn to London King's Cross service.

A BTP spokesman said: "BTP can confirm that a woman died after being struck by a train in Littleport on Wednesday, May 27."

"The incident is being treated as not suspicious."

The line was handed back to Network Rail at 5.07pm.

Police seek Asbo for pensioner, 68

A PENSIONER from Ely could soon be handed an anti-social behaviour order (Asbo).

Police have applied for Patrick Hassean to be issued with the order.

The request was made at Ely Magistrates' Court last week while the 68 year old was charged with two counts of using threatening words/behaviour to cause harassment/alarm/distress.

No pleas were entered.

The case was adjourned until June 11 for reports to be made.

Hassean, of Wheatsheaf Close, was released on conditional bail not to contact Valerie Duncan, Pamela Croft or Janice Pears.

City needs a parking plan

Sir, I am writing regarding Christine Jones's response to my letter concerning on-street parking for residents of Ely (Reclaim streets for the people – Letters, May 21). Many of her points are well-considered. Although neither of us drive, both of our households have one car, and off-street parking. Not every homeowner in Ely has that convenience, however. I believe now, as I did before, that the council should sell residential permits to be displayed inside the windscreens of residents' vehicles, and designate some streets' areas as "residential parking only". The income generated from the annual sale of permits should off-set the cost of designating those areas. Alternatively, especially in the Broad Street and High Barns areas, homeowners should be permitted a parking spot in one of the nearby car parks for free after they have bought said permit from the council. We live here. Not all of us have the land to allow for the luxury of a driveway. Ely is essentially a market town that has become attractive due to city planning, the geniality, generosity and civility of its people, residents and business owners alike. The houses were built next to formerly unpaved roads through which horse-drawn carriages moved. You cannot ask the houses nor their owners to move back a step. I think if the council would employ a few people whose job was to fine car owner/operators for incorrect parking, especially on the High Street, it would discourage casual parkers, and generate much-needed income for road maintenance. It's a matter of checks and balances, I believe. Mrs Jones's point, "being able to walk around where we live without tripping over cars abandoned on the pavements" is spot on. I do not think I have ever seen a tow truck in Ely, nor am I aware of any such enterprise operating. Why does Ely not have one? They could "rake in a fortune" and clear the streets of neglected or abandoned vehicles. I am all for walking or using public transit, wherever possible, but I do think residents of Ely with vehicles should at least have the option of buying annual resident parking permits.

Studying city trade pays off

Sir, With reference to the front-page article about the closure of two menswear shops on Ely (Warning for city traders – Weekly News, May 14) Whilst I am sure that Jordan Day reported correctly what he was told by Oliver Tookman from RG's – that they were forced to close because of the recession and it being much worse in Ely compared to Wisbech and Spalding – it is our experience that Ely is not affected greatly by the recession, being a prosperous market town. We opened John Pauls menswear

MEMORIES

Last week's Memories photograph, from our archives, showed members of Ely and District Toy Library on a "toy trundle". It was taken in April, 1985. Mrs Carter, of Ely, wrote in with memories of our picture on May 14, which showed visitors to Ely Tower Hospital in 1970. She recognised Joan Clark, Mrs Stevens (later Dimock), Mrs Baldwin, Mrs Lowe, ward sister Lilly Peacock and Mr Chapman.

shop in Forehill in October and our turnover has increased each month. This could partly be because we studied the market before we came and aim to give our customers good service. Ely still has James Cox in the High Street and ourselves who will do the best we can for the people of Ely and the surrounding villages.

Who can trust greedy MPs?

Sir, It was our money that hard-working men and women paid to the Government in income tax just so MPs could spend it on expenses. The MPs think they are entitled to it, no questions asked, but now, thanks to the national press for opening all this up, it's going to take many years before anyone will trust an MP again. They only have themselves to blame. They knew they were doing wrong in claiming for such stupid things, and now it's front page news. As for MP Jonathan Djanogly's expenses, surely renovating gates does not come into running the country? It's your job to see your gates are fully maintained, not for the taxpayer to pay for them. How do you think the man in the street goes on? He dips into his own pocket, and pays. If any of these MPs had an ounce of decency they would not be in this mess now, but greed overrides honesty.

An ironic look at cycling mayhem

Sir, I was ironically amused by a picture of cycle route number 11/no cycling signs at Annesdale, Ely, recently. Those of us who brave the route from the Soham direction regularly – I often pass the time with the other three – are faced with even more stupidity from East Cambridgeshire cycle policy group. It is a very dangerous road. I myself have woken up in hospital three times and been brushed off several times.

At Stuntney, where we have just been able to get on the path, we have to cross the road in order to stay safe. We arrive at Ely High Bridge only to be told to dismount again. Why? We then turn down cycle route number 11 which is no more than a narrow footpath to arrive at Annesdale, where the picture was taken.

Now I might be a bit naive but I thought cycle routes were for safety. But no, we are directed on to Broad Street, which is not safe for cars. This is not necessary as there is a superb wide path along the river which is "no cycling".

The cyclists who ignore these ridiculous edicts – most – respect the pedestrians and we are transported in safety to Quay Side. How much money has East Cambridgeshire wasted on debate, signs and labour? More to the point, when are they going to make it safe to cycle to Ely from Soham? Till then, it's just us four.

ST ANDREW'S Church in Soham will hold its annual church fete next weekend. Organisers are calling on potential stall holders for the event on Saturday, June 13.

Pitches are available for everyone from charities to craftspeople.

There will be raffles, children's games, a car boot sale and much more on the day, which runs from 10am-noon.

To book a stall, call Alison Palmer on (01353) 720572.

Grab a nearly new bargain

A NEARLY new baby and children's clothing sale will be held in Haddenham on Saturday.

It is being hosted by the village pre-school and will run at the Arkenstall Centre from 10.30am-1.30pm.

There will be a barbecue and refreshments, children's games, a lucky dip, treasure hunt and a cake stall. Not forgetting toys, clothes, pushchairs, books and games on sale. For more information, call Suzie on (01353) 741317.

Green living on the agenda

ECO-FRIENDLY living will be the topic of conversation at a meeting in Ely next week.

Graeme Lockhart, RIBA architect, will be talking about "An eco-house near Ely" on Wednesday, June 10.

Hosted by the Ely Society, the event will be held at the Methodist Hall, Chapel Street, at 7.30pm. Admission is £2 for visitors.

Buildings set alight

ARSONISTS set fire to out buildings in Soham. Firefighters from the town were called to the rear of a property on the High Street just after 12.45am last Friday. The fire was under control by 1.40am.

'Sick' thieves target cars at crematorium

Angry: Sallie Curtis and her daughter Carla, who had their belongings stolen.

Picture: Duncan Lamont 558180.

A FAMILY has become the latest target of sick thieves who prey on mourners visiting Cambridge Crematorium.

Sallie Curtis, of Ely, has called for CCTV at the crematorium, which has become the haunt of criminals.

She was marking what would have been her mother Dorothy's birthday on Sunday, May 24, with her daughter Carla, a Milton office worker, when criminals struck.

Police officers stood guard at her home after thieves broke in to her car and stole house keys, a mobile phone and other personal belongings in her handbag.

Mrs Curtis, who is a risk-assessment manager, said: "My mother's birthday will never feel the same again after this."

"It is disgusting that thieves are sitting there watching people and then stealing their things. It's sick."

"There must be CCTV put in place. If Joanna Lumley can help the GURKHAS then I'm sure I can get the council to put cameras there."

"People are visiting the crematorium feeling very emotional and thinking of other things so signs, which I didn't actually see, warning people not to leave their belongings in their cars are just not enough. We were told that a thief even stole from a car during a funeral."

She praised police for being "sensitive" and "helpful".

BY RAYMOND BROWN

Email: editorial@elyweeklynews.co.uk

"The police were fantastic and officers told me they'd asked the council to put cameras there. It would save a lot of time and taxpayers' money. The police were so good they even put a guard outside my house because my driving licence and keys were taken," she said.

There have been several incidents of the bereaved being targeted by thieves in the crematorium.

Tracy Lawrence, bereavement services manager for Cambridge City Council, has not ruled out CCTV.

She added: "We are working with Cambridgeshire police looking at ways to stop this. We have done a comprehensive survey and looked at CCTV among other things, such as parking."

"The public were consulted and some felt that CCTV would intrude on their grief so it is a very difficult issue. We are looking at a scaled-down version of the original plan which could mean some CCTV."

"It is mindless that criminals are doing this and more so in this setting."

The crematorium was also targeted by scrap metal thieves in February 2008 when 150 commemorative bronze plaques were stolen. The plaques were replaced with granite ones.

More warning signs are to be erected advising people not to leave valuables in their cars.

Motor show cancelled

THIS year's Two Counties Motor Show at the Rowley Mile racecourse, Newmarket, has been cancelled.

A spokesperson for the organisers, Newmarket, Ely and Cambridge Lions, said: "With the absence of some of the major dealers in the area, the show would not have had the desired impact and selection of vehicles to warrant a show of this importance at such an impressive venue."

The show, to have been held next month, would have benefited Arthur Rank House and Community First Responders.

The Lions are now proposing to help the charities with other money-raising events throughout the year.

Plea for views from victims

VICTIMS of rape and sexual violence are being urged to have their say about support services in Cambridgeshire. The Cambridge Rape Crisis Centre has been commissioned to study the counselling and other services offered to survivors of rape and sexual abuse in the county.

The centre wants to hear from victims so that they can use their feedback to improve services.

Participants can be anyone who has experienced sexual violence at any stage of their lives.

The centre will also be consulting with service providers such as GPs and police to create a detailed picture of the current provision.

For more information, call Helen on 07780 676987 or visit www.cambridgerapecrisis.co.uk

Relax . . . and join in course

RESIDENTS wanting to chill out or help solve problems such as pain or insomnia are being given a helping hand. A meditation for beginners course started in Ely this week.

Organised by the Ely Meditation Group, the seven-week course runs every Monday at The Cathedral Centre from 7.45-9.15pm. Instruction is being given on insight and awareness meditation, aimed at helping everything from anxiety to depression to tension. The course is open to everyone of all backgrounds and abilities.

For more information, call Carole on (01353) 610614 or Dick on (01353) 659082.

Get creative at workshop

ADULT pottery workshops kick off in Littleport tomorrow. Moonbow Ceramics will run the six-week course at Young People Littleport every Friday from 7-8.30pm.

The cost is £27 for all six weeks, which includes all materials, tools and kiln firing. For more information or to book, call Christine on (01353) 863091.

Strap on skates for museum talk

SKATING and how it has changed over the years will be the subject of a talk in Ely on Thursday, June 11.

Bob Burn-Murdoch will lead a talk entitled The Golden Age of Skating at the Vernon Cross Room, Market Street, at 7.30pm.

Hosted by the Friends of Ely Museum, the entry cost is £1 for members and £1.50 for non members. Refreshments will be served.

Grab a bargain at fundraiser

A BRIC-A-BRAC sale will be held in Ely on Saturday. Raising funds for the British Red Cross, the sale is being held at the Ely Centre, West Fen Road, from 10am.

Bishop's historic return to abbey

HUNDREDS of people flocked to the River Cam to see the Bishop of Ely aboard the first of a flotilla of pleasure boats.

For the first time in 550 years, the bishop, Dr Anthony Russell, returned to Biggin Abbey in Fen Ditton.

As part of the Diocese of Ely's 900th anniversary celebrations, he was retracing a historic journey formerly made by his early predecessors to their summer residence.

Leading the crowds, the bishop arrived at Baits Bite Lock by boat then walked half a mile to the abbey.

The building still bears traces of the 13th century summer palace where former bishops had resided to be close to Cambridge University.

The crowds were then entertained by a juggler, medieval musicians and country dancing from children at Fen Ditton Primary School, before the bishop led a service in Horningsea Church.

Lindsay Davies, a local resident who helped organise the historical event, said: "It was the most glorious day in every respect."

"As we gently made our way down to Horningsea Church, passing canoes, cows and cyclists, the bishop commented that he did not usually spend his Sunday mornings in quite such a relaxed manner!"

OAP fined for failing to stop

A PENSIONER failed to tell police he had crashed his car because his wife was ill at home with the flu, a court heard.

Geoffrey Stubbings, 78, said he did not let the owner of the vehicle he hit know either because he had nothing to write down his details with.

The incident happened on January 12 when his Vauxhall Astra hit a Vauxhall Corsa in Ely's Brays Lane car park.

Laura Mardell, prosecuting, said: "A man who was parked in another car at the time saw everything."

"Mr Stubbings' car made a loud revving noise before shunting forward and colliding with the car parked opposite him."

"He got out and looked around both cars but then left the scene without leaving his details."

BY JORDAN DAY

Email: editorial@elyweeklynews.co.uk

"He also failed to tell police about the crash but the witness made a note of his index number, enabling police to track him down."

The bench heard how the victim's car number plates had been damaged and pushed inwards as a result of the crash.

Stubbings, of St Johns Road, Ely, pleaded guilty at the city's magistrates' court to driving without due care and attention, failing to report an accident and failing to stop at the scene.

Unrepresented, he told the bench: "I always leave my car in gear with the handbrake on but when I started my car up it shunted forward really quickly."

"I was baffled with the power it went at so I think it must have been in third gear instead of first.

"I did get out of my car to see if any damage had been done but there was no major scrapes and the car was very dirty."

"If I had had a pencil with me I would have left a note of my details on the car but I just wanted to get home to my wife who had the flu."

"I realise now I should have done though."

Presiding magistrate, Hamish Ross, endorsed five penalty points on the pensioner's licence.

Stubbings was also fined £150 and ordered to pay £35 court costs and a £15 victim surcharge.

Mr Ross said: "It is common courtesy to leave a note with an apology on it and your name and address. You have more driving experience than most and this is your first accident in years, so we would expect better from you."

Sowing the seeds of farming success

FARM workers were given a helping hand in the fields last week.

Cambridgeshire Euro MP Richard Howitt visited a GS Shropshire farm in Ely to meet local and migrant fruit and vegetable pickers.

He even climbed aboard a harvesting rig on the visit and was shown around accommodation provided for migrant workers.

Mr Howitt said: "Here in Fenland more than anywhere else, local farmers have told me that they could not survive without the migrant workers who help alongside local workers to get the harvest in and out onto the supermarket shelves."

"Shropshire's was one of the first family firms to reach into Europe, using the opportunities there to safeguard jobs and the business here in Ely."

The company, which has hundreds of farms across the country, has ventured into Europe to attract migrant workers to help bring in the harvest, and also established growing sites in

On the land: back from left, John Shropshire, managing director of GS Shropshire, Richard Howitt MEP and John Cowan, MEP candidate for South-East Cambridgeshire, with workers.

Spain where production, under the Ely family's supervision, now allows them to keep shop shelves full all year around.

Beverley Dixon, human resources director at Shropshire's, said: "We have a long history of employing migrant workers.

"We have a core workforce of 700 people most of which are local, British employees.

"But in the summer, when it is harvest and picking time, that number rises to around 3,000, the majority of which are migrant workers.

"British workers are not prepared to do physical summer work and generally do not want it.

"By employing migrant workers, we do not just give them a job, we give them a future."

Teenage burglar left prints behind

A TEENAGE thief who stole £750 worth of equipment from an office was soon tracked down by police.

Thomas Moore left his finger print behind while taking money from a cash tin at The Boat Yard, in Annesdale, Ely.

Altogether, the 18-year-old nabbed £10 cash, a laptop, a computer monitor, two mobile phones, a computer hard drive and even two cans of lager.

Moore, of Cotman Road, Ipswich, pleaded guilty at Ely Magistrates' Court last Thursday to burglary with intent to steal.

Laura Mardell, prosecuting,

BY JORDAN DAY

Email: editorial@elyweeklynews.co.uk

said: "The wooden door had been smashed down and items taken over the Easter Bank Holiday weekend, some time between April 12 and April 14.

"Officers attended Mr Moore's house but none of the stolen goods were there."

The bench heard how Moore's previous convictions included stealing a car and using threatening words/behaviour.

But Jacqui Baldwin, mitigating, said Moore burgled the office with two of his friends.

She said: "My client had been drinking heavily in Ely with some friends. In fact, he cannot even remember how he got to Ely.

"This incident involved three people, him and two friends but he has not given their names.

"The office was not vandalised either."

Magistrates placed Moore on a 12-month community order with 120 hours of unpaid work in the local community plus supervision.

He was also ordered to pay £250 compensation towards replacing the stolen goods and the damaged door, as well as £60 court costs.

Bag theft from shop window

A YELLOW handbag was stolen from a shop window in Ely.

Police are appealing for information after the theft from Gibbs, in the city's High Street.

The designer Radley bag was taken between 11am and 2pm on Thursday, May 21.

Sgt Lindsay Harbour said: "I would like to speak to anyone who saw someone taking this bag from the shop."

Anyone with any information should call Sgt Harbour at Ely police station on 0845 4564564.

Waite urges graduates to 'make a difference'

BY CHRIS ELLIOTT

Email: editorial@elyweeklynews.co.uk

OPEN University (OU) students from all over the East of England donned their graduation robes at the weekend to collect their degrees.

Terry Waite CBE was among those awarded degrees at Ely Cathedral on Saturday – he received the Honorary Degree of Doctor of the University for his exceptional contribution to education and culture.

For some of the students, their qualifications marked eight years of work.

Speaking at the ceremony, Mr Waite spoke of the influence of the OU, which is celebrating its 40th anniversary.

He said the country was in "crisis" following the row over MPs' expenses and he called on graduates to build on what they had achieved to improve national life.

He said: "Today you have earned your degree. Use your newly-acquired status to fight for truth, justice and fair dealing for the people of this country and beyond."

Among the graduates was Anni Domingo, 59, an actress and drama teacher from Ely, who received a BA honours degree in literature.

She said: "I have acted in many Shakespeare plays but I found studying the subject academically broadened my appreciation and it has given me a new career, teaching Shakespeare to children eight to 18 years old."

Cambridge man Willem De Boer, 29, who works with computer graphics, said: "I have done four years of maths, got my degree, and will be starting a year of post-grad research at Cambridge University next year. This is something I have been working towards for a long time."

Children's nurse Paula Brewer, 44, who received a BA honours in health and social care, said: "Despite having nursing qualifications I wanted to look at health from a broader perspective and give myself a challenge."

"Getting up early to write essays during the family's summer holidays was never the high point of the courses but the joy of achieving good marks made it worthwhile."

Helen Wildman, the OU's director for the East of England, said: "We live in an era when more people want a university education, and more people need to return to university throughout their lives to fulfil their career and personal ambitions."

Warden shares vision

A NEW warden has been appointed at Wicken Fen nature reserve.

Emma Shepherd has been taken on as a community warden, which will see her trying to increase the understanding of the National Trust's Wicken Fen Vision among local communities.

The new role comes just weeks after council bosses refused to give the ambitious scheme full backing for a second time until further public consultation was carried out.

Chris Soans, Wicken Fen

property manager, said: "We are delighted to welcome Emma to the Wicken Fen team."

"The trust places significant emphasis on the community engagement as an essential part of the on-going implementation of the Vision, and I am sure Emma will make a significant contribution to this important work."

One of her first projects will be to oversee the creation of an easy-access garden for the new dragonfly centre, due to open in July.

On board: Wicken Fen's new community warden, Emma Shepherd. CP

Take walk in country park to help sclerosis sufferers

A NEW charity event has been launched in Cambridgeshire – aimed at helping people with multiple sclerosis.

The Wheel and Walk will take place at Hinchingsbrooke Country Park in Huntingdon on Sunday, June 28, and will raise money for research into the disease at Addenbrooke's Hospital, as well as for seven local MS Society branches, including Ely, Huntingdon, and Cambridge.

The sponsored walk, with a special route for wheelchair users, will be started by Beijing Olympic medallist Louis Smith, who won a gymnastics bronze at the Games.

Tony Collett, chairman of the organising committee, said: "The country park is a perfect venue for the event as it has 180 acres of grassland, meadows, woodland and lakes and a range of hard-surfaced paths, making it an ideal venue for wheelchairs and walkers alike. There will be routes of two, three and six miles.

"It's the first event of its type for multiple sclerosis, and the staff and rangers of the park are proving most helpful in helping to stage it."

Entry fees are £10 for adults and £5 for children, with application forms available at www.mssociety.org.uk/walking or from branches of the Norwich and Peterborough Building Society. Adult sized T-shirts will be given out on the day to all entrants and all children will receive a medal.

Other attractions will include a barbecue, musical entertainment, face painting and a range of stalls.

ELSINORE HOTEL LLANDUDNO & SNOWDONIA

Llandudno is one of the largest Welsh resorts with the sandy beach set in the magnificent crescent shaped bay. It offers a range of modern attractions whilst retaining its Victorian character. The promenade has a modern shopping arcade discreetly designed to blend with the traditional surrounds.

The Elsinore Hotel overlooks the beach, with the Great Orme on the left and Little Orme on the right. All bedrooms are ensuite with tea and coffee making facilities and colour TV.

The two FREE excursions include a full day through the heart of Snowdonia, visiting Betws-y-Coed with its wonderful setting surrounded by dense woodland and its magnificent mountain country as well as cascading waterfalls, hill-top lakes, river pools and ancient bridges. We continue our tour via Llanberis and Caernarfon. Our second excursion takes us over the Menai Straits to the Isle of Anglesey and the elegant resort of Beaumaris.

Comprehensive insurance is available if required at £14.50 per person and our standard terms and conditions apply.

Help at hand for breastfeeding mums

BREASTFEEDING mums are being given a helping hand thanks to a new scheme in Chatteris.

Bernadette Crosson, Cambridgeshire Community Services' pregnancy specialist, has launched a new initiative to encourage mothers to breastfeed for longer.

The Breastfeeding Peer Supporters' initiative is aimed at providing both practical and emotional support.

She said: "It is known that if mums receive help and support they are more likely to breast feed for longer, giving important health benefits to them and their child."

"This support can be from family, friends, healthcare professionals or breastfeeding peer supporters."

"Peer supporters can be any woman who has breastfed for four months and enjoyed and wants to share their experience.

"The peer supporters offer telephone support and visit baby clinics and antenatal groups to talk to breastfeeding mothers."

Peer supporters will also be running a breastfeeding social group at the town's children's centre, on Larham Way, on the first and third Thursday of every month.

Packs go out to burglary victims

BURGLARY victims are being given an information pack to help them overcome the ordeal.

The packs, which contain crime prevention advice, are being delivered across Cambridge and the Ely area.

Detective Inspector Adam Gall-op, who is leading Cambridge's burglary crackdown, Operation Hamilton, is writing to burglary victims explaining how to use the pack and what police are doing to tackle burglaries.

The letter tells victims that officers are working to solve their burglary and aims to reassure residents that even if all lines of enquiry are exhausted, their case will be reviewed if new evidence comes to light or property is found.

The pack is delivered by a local PCSO, who will offer advice on home security. For those homes with various security issues, a more in-depth visit can be arranged with staff from the force's crime reduction unit.

DI Gallop said: "From the beginning of this year burglary has been our top priority for Cambridgeshire and this pack has been developed to reinforce the support we have in place for victims and to help people understand how burglaries are investigated."

"The crime prevention tools contained in this pack will give residents some great, cost-free ways of safeguarding their property."

Tour the gardens

WILDLIFE lovers will be able to mingle together at a garden party this Sunday.
The Local Campaigners for the Protection of Rural Ely (LCPRE) will hold a fundraising gathering from 2-5pm.
Four gardens will open their gates for the event, including 50A Prickwillow Road, 1 Mulberry Way, 28 Juniper Drive and 60 Prickwillow Road.
There will be teas, stalls and plants for sale at all the gardens.
An all-garden ticket is £2.
For more information, call Liz Hunter on (01353) 664191.

Go back in time

SEVENTEENTH century pastimes will be revived in Ely this weekend. A living history day will be held at Palace Green and Oliver Cromwell's House on Saturday. Displays and demonstrations will include dancing, crafts, cookery and storytelling. There will also be a living encampment and cavalry drills for people of all ages to enjoy. The event runs from 10am-4pm. For more information, call Oliver Cromwell's House on (01353) 662062.

Vehicle break-in

A WALLET and a sat-nav have been stolen from a car in Ely. The Vauxhall Omega was parked along the A10 when thieves smashed the front driver's side window. The items were taken between 8.45pm and 9.10pm on Sunday, May 17. Anyone with any information should call police on 0845 4564564.

Moving on: John and Susan Surbey outside their farmhouse, which has its own airstrip. Picture: Richard Patterson 558201

Fly in to land house and cottage bargain

A RETIRED couple are putting their jet set lifestyle up for sale – including a farmhouse complete with airstrip, private plane and a French holiday cottage, all for just £590,000.

John and Susan Surbey are downsizing and hoping to spend more time at their holiday home in Spain as well as sailing their boat.

The buyer will bag a quintessential three-bed farmhouse with eight acres of land including an orchard, an airstrip, hangar and stables between Soham and Ely.

It comes with a four-seater 1990 Maule 180 Skyrocket aeroplane and a three-bed cottage in Normandy with sea views across to Jersey.

David Clarke, of Ely-based estate agent David Clarke and Company, is handling the sale.

He said: "Someone has the chance to buy themselves a dream. The Surbeys are even prepared to throw in the chickens and geese."

Mr Surbey, 62, a retired partner of a plumbing and heating firm, built the airstrip and hangar so the couple could pop over to France.

Mrs. Surbey, 64, a former midwife, said it gave them a wonderful lifestyle. She said: "Having a plane meant we could go to France at the drop of a hat."

"We could finish work on a Friday, throw a suitcase in the plane and two hours later be at our French home in time for dinner."

The Surbays bought the farmhouse for £72,000 about 23 years ago and refurbished it. It is on market, individually, for £450,000. The plane can be bought for £40,000 and the Normandy cottage, near Granville, for £100,000.

Ban for second-time drink-driver

A DRINK-DRIVER has been banned for three years after being caught intoxicated behind the wheel for the second time.

Steven Sismey was disqualified from driving in April 2003 after police caught him drink-driving in Ely.

But the 37 year old drove his car while drunk again on May 11 this year.

BY JORDAN DAY

Email: editorial@elyweeklynews.co.uk

A police officer pulled him over as he was driving his Volkswagen Golf along Sutton Road, Witchford, at 12.15pm.

Laura Mardell, prosecuting, said: "He was not pulled over because his driving was poor but when the officer spoke to him he could smell alcohol on his breath."

A breath test at Ely police station showed Sismey had 88 micrograms of alcohol in 100 millilitres of breath. The legal limit for driving is 35 micrograms.

Sismey, of Brick Lane, Mepal, admitted driving while over the legal alcohol limit when he appeared at Ely Magistrates' Court.

He told the bench: "I had not slept from a heavy party the night before and then went to pick my partner up. I thought I would be okay to drive."

"I am deeply ashamed of doing it again and it is pathetic I know."

Presiding magistrate, Hamish Ross, banned Sismey for three years. He was also fined £150 and ordered to pay £60 court costs and a £15 victim surcharge.

YOUR GUIDE TO MOVING HOME

1 Moving home can be a complicated business and, in the hectic run to the big day, it is all too easy to forget something vital. The Property News offers their readers this handy checklist that should help avoid major pitfalls. We suggest you tick off the items as you deal with them...

WITH FOUR WEEKS TO GO:

- ☐ Get estimates from removal companies, checking that comprehensive insurance cover is available against damage or loss. Is there a packing and unpacking service? Confirm the date of your move with the firm you have chosen.
- ☐ Check on your home contents insurance policies to ensure that you are covered for the move, and covered at your new address.
- ☐ Make arrangements for your gas and electricity meters (plus water meters where relevant) to be read and all your appliances to be disconnected on the day of your move.
- ☐ Arrange to take over gas and electricity at your new address, and make sure that all appliances will be properly fitted, plumbed or connected.
- ☐ Notify British Telecom and ask them to make the necessary arrangements for a final account at your present address, and for taking over or installing telephone facilities at your new home.
- ☐ Arrange for change of address cards to be printed.

WITH TWO WEEKS TO GO:

- ☐ Confirm all arrangements, times etc, for meter readings, disconnections and reconnections, with authorities and with your buyer and seller.
- ☐ Make sure you have a good stock of packing materials, including sturdy boxes and plenty of string and sticky tape.
- ☐ Begin to throw out unwanted items from attics, wardrobes. What you really don't want you may as well dump now, or send to charity. It's a great time for a good sort out!

WITH ONE WEEK TO GO:

- ☐ Send off change of address cards.
- ☐ Arrange and pay for automatic redirection of your mail by the Post Office.
- ☐ Cancel and pay up accounts for routine delivery services such as milk, groceries, fuel and your Cambridge Evening News. Re-organise these deliveries for your new address.
- ☐ Defrost refrigerators in preparation for move and, if you are moving a freezer and its contents, turn it up to maximum for a couple of days before you move.

WITH ONE DAY TO GO:

- ☐ Complete your packing except for those items you are likely to need overnight, and prepare a picnic for moving day.
- ☐ Have a large enough cash 'float' available to deal with unexpected expenses, and make sure you have collected documents and valuables together in a safe place.
- ☐ Cover carpets which are being left behind, so as to minimise damage during furniture removal.
- ☐ Check through previous lists to make sure nothing has been overlooked, then enjoy a worry-free early night!

2 ON MOVING DAY:

- ☐ Strip beds and pack bedding and nightclothes.
- ☐ Pack items for washing/toiletries.
- ☐ Take down curtains.
- ☐ Take up rugs, carpets, floor coverings, as required.
- ☐ Dismantle any light fittings etc., not included in the sale.
- ☐ Turn off electric appliances.
- ☐ Disconnect cooker.
- ☐ Turn off boiler/central heating.
- ☐ Turn off water.
- ☐ Read gas meter.
- ☐ Read electricity meter.
- ☐ Secure all windows.
- ☐ Lock all doors.
- ☐ Leave key as arranged with new owners.
- ☐ On arrival at your new home, unpack slowly and methodically so that you can check for loss or damage.

Partners unite to hit rogue traders

BY JORDAN DAY

DODGY builders and rogue traders have been targeted by police.

Operation Hassle involved teams of officers working alongside officers from Trading Standards, the Environment Agency, councils and HM Revenue and Customs to target known "hot-spots".

More than 40 police officers and 20 officers from partner agencies took part in the Cambridgeshire police operation.

Officers carried out patrols in areas where so-called "cold callers" and rogue traders are known to operate.

Two men were arrested on suspicion of fraud offences in Landbeach and Sutton, five men were arrested on suspicion of fraud by false representation following raids in Chatteris and Doddington, and another man was arrested at Stretham on suspicion of immigration offences.

Some 94 vehicles were stop checked, three vehicles were seized for no insurance, and five motorists were fined or reported for traffic offences.

Inspector Dick Turner said: "I am very pleased with the day's work and the number of stop checks carried out is likely to rise."

People over the age of 60, or those with a physical disability or learning difficulty, are encouraged to use Cambridgeshire County Council's Registered Trader scheme.

Rare sight: a rare squacco heron has been spotted at Wicken Fen nature reserve. CP

Bird watchers flock in to see a rare visitor

A RARE visitor to Britain is causing a flap at Wicken Fen nature reserve.

An unusual squacco heron (Ardeola Ralloides) has been spotted on the reserve's Baker Fen.

After hearing of its arrival on the internet, bird watchers from across the region flocked to the National Trust reserve to see the mystical bird.

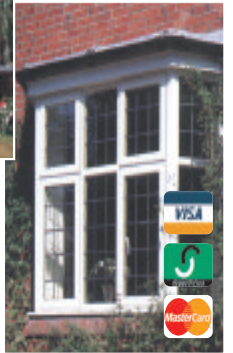

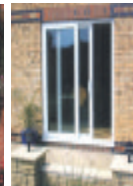

Ralph Sargeant, former Wicken Fen warden, has been bird watching at the reserve for more than 40 years.

He said: "It is fantastic to see this rare bird as it is the first time it has been spotted here. It is creating a lot of interest among visitors."

The squacco normally resides in the warmer climes of southern Europe and spends its winters in Africa.

The heron, typically 46cm in height and weighing around 300 grams, prefers permanent or temporary freshwater wetlands with abundant marsh vegetation, reed beds, nearby bushes, trees and scrub.

Live TV coverage of hospital ops earns surgeons' support

A TV show broadcasting operations live from Addenbrooke's and Papworth hospitals will help educate the public, surgeons believe.

Channel 4's The Operation: Surgery Live has shown surgeons conducting operations while answering questions from a studio audience, as well as from viewers using websites such as Twitter.

Last week, viewers watched Francis Wells lead a Papworth team conducting open-heart surgery and Richard Hardwick leading a key-hole stomach operation at Addenbrooke's.

The latter procedure introduced viewers to surgical secrets such as "Goldfingers" and the "shoe-shine shuffle" – all relayed in pin-sharp images from inside the abdomen of patient Susan Hyde, from Whittlesford.

Mr Hardwick, consultant gastro-intestinal surgeon at the Cambridge hospital, told the Weekly News: "We were very pleased with the way it went. All the [TV] technology didn't interfere with what was going on with the operation. And Susan is feeling fine."

Pleased: Richard Hardwick praised the programme for taking a non-sensational approach.

Presenter Krishnan Guru-Murthy was at a studio in the Wellcome Collection in London, from where he put the public's questions to Mr Hardwick and his fellow Addenbrooke's surgeon Simon Derryhouse, who was also in the studio.

The operation tackled a hiatus hernia in Ms Hyde's diaphragm, where part of her stomach had risen from her abdomen into her chest cavity.

Mr Hardwick praised the programme for taking an "education-based" non-sensational approach.

He added: "Principally, we were hoping to educate the public, both about aspects of that particular condition, and also about what is involved in getting people through complex operations."

Papworth's Mr Wells said: "Most people have no idea what goes on inside their bodies and I believe that the more they understand and appreciate how their bodies work, the more they may look after their own health."

Fraud fears over swine flu tablets

HEALTH bosses have issued a swine flu fraud alert to stop doctors and patients selling anti-viral drugs on the black market.

The outbreak has prompted Cambridgeshire and Hertfordshire's primary care trusts (PCTs) to be on the alert for fraud surrounding the respiratory disease.

Fraud officers at the health authorities fear that doctors may sell the anti-viral drug Tamiflu on the black market or obtain it for family and friends.

They are also worried that unscrupulous traders will sell fake batches of the drug to desperate members of the public.

The Weekly News found a website offering to sell a batch of 100 75mg Tamiflu tablets for £750. Another was offering the same 100 pills for £359.

The recommended dose is 75mg daily for five days and the prevention dosage is 75mg capsule every alternate day.

In a document leaked to the Weekly News, East and North

BY RAYMOND BROWN

Email: editorial@elyweeklynews.co.uk

Hertfordshire PCT and West Hertfordshire PCT said: "Hertfordshire PCTs are aware that there is a heightened risk of fraud due to the recent outbreak of swine flu."

It went on to outline the various risks.

GPs were told to keep an eye out for patients registering at several surgeries in a bid to obtain numerous doses of the drug Tamiflu.

And they warn that doctors and other health staff could abuse their position and obtain the drugs "unfairly" to distribute to friends and family.

It also claims doctors and health professionals could get the drugs and sell them illegally on the black market.

And there are fears con artists could send emails to patients with links to websites that claim to be able to sell anti-viral drugs, but are in fact a cover for stealing credit card or bank details. Meanwhile, counterfeit anti-virals could be offered for sale through websites.

Francesca Pillow, local anti-fraud specialist for East and North Hertfordshire PCT, which covers Royston, said: "We have had no cases of fraud concerning anti-virals reported to us so far but we thought that prevention is better than cure and so released a pre-emptive alert to GPs."

Detective Chief Inspector Jon Hutchinson of Cambridgeshire police said: "We are not aware of any reports of this type of fraud so far but we are monitoring the situation."

A spokeswoman for NHS Cambridgeshire said: "Fraud is taken very seriously by NHS Cambridgeshire."

"The supply of Tamiflu is strictly dispensed and monitored in accordance with protocol and we currently undertake secure stock control procedures."

The fraud warning comes as a fifth case of the illness was confirmed in Cambridgeshire.

The patient was recovering well, according to an NHS spokesman

Charity's call for cash to ease end of life pain

CHARITY bosses are calling for improvements in the way people are treated towards the end of their lives.

Sue Ryder Care, which has a centre in Ely, is demanding more commitment from both the Government and NHS to provide better end of life care.

The move comes following a public accounts committee report, which is also urging the Government to spend its £286 million End of Life Care strategy wisely.

Paul Woodward, chief executive of Sue Ryder Care, said: "With approximately half a million people dying each year in the UK and a significant number of those needing specialist palliative care, it is imperative that the additional funding allocated from the Government to improve end of life care is utilised to maximum benefit for the people who need it most.

"We believe that everyone who needs specialist palliative care, whatever their diagnosis, should receive it to enable them to live their lives to the full, and when the end comes, to die pain free, with dignity and in a place of their choice."

RACE FOR LIFE 2009

THIS summer thousands of women will take part in two Race for Life events in Cambridge, raising vital cash for Cancer Research UK. Often, those taking part do so in memory of, or in tribute to, cancer sufferers – and our sister paper the Cambridge News is looking to help recognise the bravery of these inspirational people in a special supplement. If you are running in tribute to someone, please send a jpeg picture of that person, their name, age and circumstances, along with a short message to them. Along with your email please also include your own name, address and contact details and say which of the two Cambridge events you will be taking part in. It is important you make sure all relevant parties are happy for the information to appear in the newspaper. Send all this by email to: raceforlife@cambridge-news.co.uk by Monday, June 8, and you will see your message printed in a post-race supplement, which will also feature dozens of photographs from the event.

Summer setting for hilarious retelling of Bard masterpiece

ONE of William Shakespeare's greatest plays comes to Ely this month.

And residents will be able to enjoy the performance basking in the delights of a summer's evening.

The Lord Chamberlain's Men's open-air touring company will make a welcome return to the city to present Shakespeare's magical comedy Twelfth Night.

The hilarious tale of mistaken identity, infatuation and broken hearts will be performed in the King's School Ely's Priory Garden on Wednesday, June 17.

The picturesque setting allows members of the audience to bring picnics, deckchairs and a glass of something chilled before sitting back to enjoy a performance which promises to be as original and entertaining as last summer's enchanting Much Ado About Nothing.

A school spokeswoman said: "Once again we are absolutely thrilled to welcome this unusual event back to the school's gardens.

"What could be better than enjoying one of Shakespeare's finest plays with a glass of wine and the fresh air around you?"

Named after Shakespeare's own theatrical troupe, The Lord Chamberlain's Men attempt to re-create the world of Shakespearean theatre as accurately as possible, with an all-male cast and historically relevant costume, music and dance.

Arrive when gates open at 6.30pm and you will be able to see the actors applying their make-up, getting into costume and you may even encounter a wandering minstrel before the performance begins at 7.30pm.

Tickets are £12.50 for adults and £10 for children.

To book tickets, call (01353) 653931.

King's Drama stages its own open-air production of another Shakespeare play, A Midsummer Night's Dream, in Priory Garden on Monday, June 29 and Tuesday, June 30, at 7pm.

Choirs unite to mix it up

RENOWNED choirs of Ely Cathedral and Cambridge University will come together in Ely this month. Choirs from Selwyn and Girton colleges in Cambridge will perform at the cathedral on Saturday, June 13 as part of Mixing Their Music. With the orchestra led by Helen Medlock, the programme will feature Haydn's Nelson Mass and the music of other 2009 anniversary composers such as Handel and Purcell. The performance starts at 7.30pm. Tickets range from £5 to £20 and are available by calling (01353) 660349. Alternatively, visit www.elycathedral.org

Old stone and garden works

TWO unusual exhibitions are on at The Old Fire Engine House, Ely this month. Jenny Sanders will be showcasing pieces in her Water and Old Stone exhibition with her beautiful prints and drawings. And Carol Sinclair will have her sculptures on display in the gallery and the garden. The exhibitions run from today until June 28. Opening times are 10.30am-10.30pm Monday-Friday, 10.30am-5.30pm Saturday and 12.30pm-4.30pm Sunday. For more information, call (01353) 662582.

Opera star returns to his roots for concert

UP-AND-COMING opera star Darren Jeffery comes to Ely this month. The bass-baritone, who has appeared at the Royal Opera House and the BBC Proms, will give a concert at the King's School Ely's Hayward Theatre on Friday, June 12. Darren will perform alongside pianist

Christopher Glynn at 7.30pm. As a pupil at King's, Darren played trumpet and only took singing lessons in his final year at school. But his talent was recognised and he successfully auditioned for the Royal Northern College of Music in Manchester and was then selected as one of the first young singers to join the Young Artists programme at the Royal Opera House. Since then he has worked continuously and, still in his early 30s, is acknowledged as one of the rising stars of the operatic world.

Manicured gardens 'are out of fashion'

Gardeners are likely to return to native plants that give value for money, with an emphasis on low-cost options and a merge of vegetables within the flower border.

So says Andrew Duff, director of garden design courses at Inchbald School of Garden Design (www.inchbald.co.uk) who toured Chelsea with me last week to point out the trends we are likely to be seeing in the coming year.

"Next year is going to be much fluffier, but in a naturalistic way," he says.

"Our native species need shouting about – we'll see more of the viburnum, the oak and other plants which attract wildlife. We may still see manicured touches, but using native species."

Colours will be moody – fewer brilliant colours, more blood reds and blacks, he predicts. Deep purple irises and blood-red aquilegias were the prevalent plants at Chelsea, while alliums, dahlias and tulips were not.

"People are only using things that are tried and trusted. They don't want to splash out on designs that are going to be temporary. People are playing it quite safe. Now is not the time to make a mistake. They want cool, calm and subtle," Duff says.

"Fashion has gone into the 80s, with shoulder pads and colours, and maybe gardens will start to come that way in the end. At Chelsea I was expecting moody blacks and greys but I also expected some big wow-factor fluorescent colours like oranges, which is what is happening in fashion – but not in the garden.

by Hannah Stephenson

"But we are much more conscious about what materials we are using. Now we will see a bigger sweep of British natives coming in."

"There's a lot of black – black walls, black fencing, black grasses – which is great for our grey skies. And there are some lovely blood reds. Black gives a great deal of depth to a small space. In a small garden it can be really effective."

People are going to be growing more plants from seed because of the ongoing "grow your own" campaign and the economic climate, he predicts.

"Mixing the vegetables in the border is really nice. It can work well. Space is at a premium and this is a good compromise, so you can have something pretty and have vegetables."

The grassy, fluffy foliage of fennel works beautifully in flower borders, adding texture and movement, while the deep foliage of other vegetables can provide a good contrast in the flower border, along with pretty flowering herbs such as chives and thyme.

Ultimately, our gardens will reflect the release from the current stranglehold of the recession.

"Gone are the days of carefully manicured gardens," Duff says. "There's a more rough and ready approach, a return to allowing things to look slightly out of place. Our houses have become very ordered and structured, and the garden will give us a release from that."

BEST OF THE BUNCH:

Armeria (Thrift/Sea pink)

This pretty, dainty perennial, often found in seaside gardens, brightens up any border or rockery at this time of year, with pink, red or white flowerheads topping grass-like, densely-packed leaves. Thrift, which grows only to around eight inches (20cm) in height, looks great at the front of dry and sunny borders, is drought tolerant, long-flowering and makes an ideal edging plant.

Our native variety, A maritima, flowers from May to July and you can have different colours if you choose a named variety such as "Alba" (white), "Lauchiana" (rich pink) or "Bloodstone" (dark red).

GOOD ENOUGH TO EAT:

Globe artichoke

As trends move towards ornamental edibles, make a space in your garden for globe artichokes, which sit as easily in the flower border as they do in the vegetable patch. The bit you eat is the base of the mature flower bud, which can be braised in stock, although I prefer to boiled them and then eat the fleshy part of the overlapping leaves dipped in vinaigrette before getting to the artichoke heart. They need a sunny, sheltered site with well-drained, moisture-retentive soil to which plenty of organic matter has been added. They can be bought as small, pot-grown plants, seeds or offsets and need to be grown three-foot (90cm) apart, or spaced in a flower border. Take off any flower heads produced in the first year. They crop best in their second and third years, after which they can be discarded. Weed and water plants well, especially during dry spells. If you only want one big flower head, remove side shoots on each stem. When harvesting in May and June, cut the immature flower heads with secateurs just above a leaf junction, before the scales start to open, or they will become tough.

THREE WAYS TO:

Prevent tomato problems.

1. To help prevent late blight – the most common problem – grow tomato plants under cover and don't leave unharvested potatoes in the soil as they can infect subsequent crops. You can also use a copper-based fungicide as a preventative spray.

2. Water your tomato plants regularly to prevent blossom-end rot and fruit splitting.

3. Remove sideshoots regularly as the plant grows to ensure it remains healthy and crops well.

SPECIAL READER OFFER

Super Fruit Collection

IF YOU'RE passionate about healthy eating and are looking for some tasty new fruits to add to your five a day then why not try these new unusual selections. Goji berries are rich in vitamins and minerals and are a great source of antioxidants with up to 500 times more vitamin C than an orange by their weight.

The tasty Honey berry fruits are just like blueberries and can be enjoyed fresh, or baked in jams, pies and muffins. The fruits ripen in early June, in the first or second year of planting and will continue to do so year after year up to 75 years!

YOUR GUIDE TO MOVING HOME

1 Moving home can be a complicated business and, in the hectic run to the big day, it is all too easy to forget something vital. The Property News offers their readers this handy checklist that should help avoid major pitfalls. We suggest you tick off the items as you deal with them...

WITH FOUR WEEKS TO GO:

- ☐ Get estimates from removal companies, checking that comprehensive insurance cover is available against damage or loss. Is there a packing and unpacking service? Confirm the date of your move with the firm you have chosen.
- ☐ Check on your home contents insurance policies to ensure that you are covered for the move, and covered at your new address.
- ☐ Make arrangements for your gas and electricity meters (plus water meters where relevant) to be read and all your appliances to be disconnected on the day of your move.
- ☐ Arrange to take over gas and electricity at your new address, and make sure that all appliances will be properly fitted, plumbed or connected.
- ☐ Notify British Telecom and ask them to make the necessary arrangements for a final account at your present address, and for taking over or installing telephone facilities at your new home.
- ☐ Arrange for change of address cards to be printed.

WITH TWO WEEKS TO GO:

- ☐ Confirm all arrangements, times etc, for meter readings, disconnections and reconnections, with authorities and with your buyer and seller.
- ☐ Make sure you have a good stock of packing materials, including sturdy boxes and plenty of string and sticky tape.
- ☐ Begin to throw out unwanted items from attics, wardrobes. What you really don't want you may as well dump now, or send to charity. It's a great time for a good sort out!

WITH ONE WEEK TO GO:

- ☐ Send off change of address cards.
- ☐ Arrange and pay for automatic redirection of your mail by the Post Office.
- ☐ Cancel and pay up accounts for routine delivery services such as milk, groceries, fuel and your Cambridge Evening News. Re-organise these deliveries for your new address.
- ☐ Defrost refrigerators in preparation for move and, if you are moving a freezer and its contents, turn it up to maximum for a couple of days before you move.

WITH ONE DAY TO GO:

- ☐ Complete your packing except for those items you are likely to need overnight, and prepare a picnic for moving day.
- ☐ Have a large enough cash 'float' available to deal with unexpected expenses, and make sure you have collected documents and valuables together in a safe place.
- ☐ Cover carpets which are being left behind, so as to minimise damage during furniture removal.
- ☐ Check through previous lists to make sure nothing has been overlooked, then enjoy a worry-free early night!

2 ON MOVING DAY:

- ☐ Strip beds and pack bedding and nightclothes.
- ☐ Pack items for washing/toiletries.
- ☐ Take down curtains.
- ☐ Take up rugs, carpets, floor coverings, as required.
- ☐ Dismantle any light fittings etc., not included in the sale.
- ☐ Turn off electric appliances.
- ☐ Disconnect cooker.
- ☐ Turn off boiler/central heating.
- ☐ Turn off water.
- ☐ Read gas meter.
- ☐ Read electricity meter.
- ☐ Secure all windows.
- ☐ Lock all doors.
- ☐ Leave key as arranged with new owners.
- ☐ On arrival at your new home, unpack slowly and methodically so that you can check for loss or damage.

3 EXTRA HINTS FOR A SMOOTH MOVE...

WHO TO NOTIFY:

- ☐ Banks.
- ☐ Building Societies.
- ☐ Credit companies.
- ☐ Insurance companies.
- ☐ Gas, Electricity and Water Boards.
- ☐ Telephone company.
- ☐ Local Authority (Rating Department).
- ☐ Driving Licence authorities.
- ☐ Inland Revenue.
- ☐ Store cards and accounts.
- ☐ Other lease, hire or rental companies.
- ☐ Employer.
- ☐ Doctor.
- ☐ Dentist.
- ☐ Schools.

New Zed has the X factor

NISSAN'S 350Z sports car had a dream start in life, writes Iain Dooley: critically acclaimed and embraced by the buying public, the compact coupe possessed all the right attributes.

The same appears to be happening again with the, wait for it, 370Z. However, despite the risks involved, Nissan has taken a brave pill: this second album equivalent is not simply more of the same but an altogether more upbeat compilation.

Dodgy music references aside, the 370Z has been designed to deliver all that was great about the 350Z but in a slightly smaller, more concentrated package. If the older car was viewed as something for everyone, this new model has been devised to appeal to the more discerning enthusiast.

Don't confuse this approach with being elitist, though. The 370Z hasn't been designed to exclude sections of the buying public, only leave the surplus weight and fat behind plus add a little dash of clever technology for good measure.

Progress in the intervening years has led to a demand for more power. So, the 370Z comes with a 3.7-litre V6 – up from the 350Z's 3.5-litre lump. The result is 331bhp, 5.4 seconds from rest to 62mph and a 155mph top speed.

Then there's the car's size, which is instantly noticeable as being smaller than the 350Z. It's 100mm shorter in the wheelbase in a bid to increase agility and driver enjoyment. This wide, squat stance is perfectly in tune with the car's more aggressive nose and stubby rear end.

Along with less in the length department, the engineers have managed to keep the car's weight down – always the scourge of performance motoring – despite the increase in safety kit and comforts.

For many the default choice will be the six-speed manual gearbox. The unit's hefty gearshift action is full of feel yet short of throw, allowing positive, confidence-inspiring gear shifts at a pace you can dictate. There's also the car's Syncro Rev Control (available on GT Pack and GT Ultimate grades) which mimics the classic heel-and-toe action by matching the engine revs when you change down. It's a great addition – even for experienced drivers – and certainly smoothes out the process. And, of course, you can turn it off.

For the first time for UK buyers you also get the choice of a seven-speed auto gearbox, complete with paddle shifters. This, too, includes a throttle blip for the downchange, and gearchanges are always predictable and smooth.

Electronic trickery aside, the 370Z's main focus is on entertaining and flattering you. And it's a job it does extremely well. That 3.7-litre V6 is willing and tefunel, never short of puff. The inclusion of a limited slip differential for this rear-wheel drive car lets you to corner with confidence and have fun at the same time – if you know what you're doing.

Make no mistake, this is a rapid and responsive machine. Any flab or excess you thought the 350Z had has now gone, replaced by sharper reflexes and an altogether more urgent approach to motoring.

And the driving environment? Oh yes, it's got a nice cabin and comfortable, supportive seats. The fascia is better built and of higher quality materials, but you'll be more interested no doubt in driving the socks off the 370Z than admiring the buttons for the stereo.

It does have a nice stereo, though. And the option of a pretty good satnav unit, too. In fact, the car is very well equipped for the various asking prices – certainly more so than any close rival in terms of performance or price.

And that's one thing Nissan has refused to change about the Zed, as it remains excellent value for money.

Basically

However it managed it, the firm has done it again with the 370Z. In music terms the car has broken the second album jinx and is heading for the top of the charts.

All other sales categories are excluded: cannot be used in conjunction with any other offer except Recycling Allowance offer where model and engine is eligible. Offers may not apply to all retailer stocks. UK-supplied vehicles only.

Scrappage is new car sales boost

IT'S been a hectic week for car dealers in Cambridgeshire since the Government introduced its scrappage scheme to encourage motorists to ditch their old bangers for shiny new, environmentally-friendly cars.

Showrooms have been even busier than normal and Murketts of Cambridge is reporting a massive 75 per cent increase in sales inquiries.

Sales manager Stewart Lebentz said: "People are flocking in looking for cheap new cars, typically the lower-end Vauxhall models like Corsas, Astras and the sporting Tigra.

"There has been particular interest from customers who have 10-year-old cars to trade in, as they are wanting to take advantage of the Government's £2,000 scrappage bonus, to which Murketts is adding further offers on selected new Vauxhall models.

"I can foresee this boom period lasting for another three months or so, at which point the £300 million that the Government has put forward for this scheme will come to an end. It is important that people realise that there is limited funding for this scheme and buyers must act fast or risk losing out."

Marshall Nissan in Cambridge is supporting the car, when they replace their old model.

The Newmarket Road dealership is also extending the £2,000 minimum trade-in offer to include vehicles 8-10 years old, for any customer choosing one of Nissan's British built-models - which includes any new Micra, Note, Qashqai or Qashqai+2.

This means drivers of

scrappage scheme and offering customers £2,000 off the purchase of a new Nissan vehicles aged eight years old or more can now take home the British-built Micra which is priced from £5,995.

The £2,000 discount incentive at Marshall Nissan also comes with the "Just In Case" package on selected Nissan finance offers. This helps to protect customers if they lose their main source of income through accident, sickness or unemployment.

David Arrowsmith, dealer principal at Marshall Nissan, said: "The scrappage scheme is a great incentive for both motorists and the British manufacturing industry as a whole."

Children put at risk as car seats get harder to install

SOME child car seats are so difficult to fit that they pose a safety risk, Which? magazine has said.

Which? advised parents against buying one particular seat as it was so complicated to install that there was a high risk of fitting it incorrectly.

This was the Renolux Next Comfort while the Renolux 360 also performed poorly in tests, with the magazine saying it offered "woeful protection" in front crash tests.

The top-rated child car seats, which not only offered good protection but also clear instructions for easy installation, were:

- Britax Baby-Safe Sleeper
- Maxi Cosi CabrioFix with Easyfix base
- Mamas & Papas Primo Viaggio Isofix
- KiddyInfinity Pro
- Britax KidFix (Isofix)

Which? Car editor Richard Headland said: "You can buy the safest seat on the market but it must be fitted correctly to protect a child.

"We've found some seats difficult to install and others offered poor crash protection, which simply isn't acceptable. Until the legal standard improves, children will be at risk."

Child car seats: Complex fitting is counter-productive.

Electric cars 'only part of the solution', says report

THE Government cannot meet its vehicle emission targets by simply promoting the use of electric cars, a report by the Institution of Mechanical Engineers (IMEchE) said this week. It added that the Government should bring forward to 2010 its offer of a £5,000 subsidy for the buyers of electric cars from 2011.

With the right investment and planning, IMechE said it believed engineers could create cars that emit a mere 30g of carbon dioxide per kilometre by 2050.

The report said this 2050 target is the one that the Government should use instead of its 100g/km by 2020 target.

The institution said it believed a 30g figure was achievable if this target is set immediately.

The report adds: "This will allow sufficient time for industry to plan and develop the technologies, thereby helping to secure a successful future for the UK automotive industry, which currently employs 850,000 people and has a turnover of £50 billion."

The report's five recommended technologies are hybrid, fuel cell, hydrogen, battery-only electric cars - and advanced petrol and diesel.

IMEchE automotive division chairman Richard Folkson said: "We are telling the Government to set the targets but to leave the engineers to figure out how it can be done - and electric cars alone will not be the answer."

Electric solution?: The Citroen C1 ev'ie is on sale now.

Electric revolution?: A subsidy would help move the market in the right direction, says a new report.

MPH tickets set to go fast

Ringmaster: Jeremy Clarkson.

DISAPPOINTED fans who missed out on last year's sold-out MPH featuring Top Gear live shows are expected to be at the front of the queue when tickets for 2009 go on sale on Monday.

London's Earls Court will be the first venue to host the 2009 show from November 5-8 before it relocates to Birmingham's NEC from November 12-15.

The live performance will feature Top Gear's Jeremy Clarkson playing ringmaster in a 75-minute show full of stunts, automotive mayhem and some of the most prestigious new cars on the planet.

Tickets to MPH include a seat in the all new 2009 Top Gear Live World Tour and are priced from £42. For more information visit www.mphshow.co.uk or call the ticket hotline on 0871 230 5588.

GIVE YOUR CAR A WINTER WORKOUT WITH THE RMIF

The onset of winter can be bad news for motorists. Little light, bad weather and worse roads conspire to make driving tiring, unpleasant, and sometimes even dangerous.

Every journey is an opportunity to prevent the worst from happening, and there is a great deal of preventative action that you can undertake yourself.

Before setting off:

make sure that the car has enough fuel let someone know your intended movements listen to traffic news and weather forecasts, and wear warm clothing.

Naturally, the need for seasonal preparation also extends to the various systems that run the car, so make sure that the anti-freeze in the car is fresh. Insufficient or 'old' anti-freeze can cause hose, water pump or other major units to fail leading to overheating. Anti-freeze should be changed every two years due to the deterioration of the corrosion inhibitors, or according to manufacturer recommendations.

Other things to do include:

make sure the battery is in good condition on cold mornings use a de-icer on windows, or a scraper - NEVER hot water check that the screen wash is not clogged and that the bottle is topped up for use, and make sure that an additive is used to stop it freezing check windscreen wipers for wear and replace them if necessary make sure that all heaters and ventilation systems are working so that misting is minimised give all external lights and mirrors a thorough clean headlamps should be correctly aligned the tread depth should be at least 1.6mm across the central three-quarters of the breadth of the tread and around the entire circumference, and there should be no cuts or cracks spray damp inhibitor into the door locks to prevent seizing up.

Once the car is ready for winter, you should make sure it is carrying emergency equipment so that, if the worst happens, you are ready too.

Useful supplies could include: torch, spare batteries and bulbs, screen scraper / de-icer, jump leads, warning triangle, first-aid kit, 'hands free' mobile phone / phone card / cash, blankets and warm jacket / robust shoes (in case of breakdown), shovel (to clear snow if necessary), fire extinguisher, rope (for towing if necessary), road atlas, maps etc.

Essentially, safety in the winter comes down to four things: 1. Check your car. 2. Be prepared for anything. 3. Be cautious. 4. Monitor your speed.

If you try to follow these rules you should find yourself on the road to safe winter driving. To make sure your car is ready for the road in the first place, book your car in for a service. Careful preparation by the motorist can only go so far.

To find a reliable garage, motorists should look to the RMIF.

A member will be able to advise you on the type of service you need, and will be able to point out potential problem areas before they arise, or become serious. In fact, whether you want to buy or sell a new or used car or motorcycle, service or repair your existing vehicle, find an auction house, or a cherished number plate dealer, the RMIF will be able to help you.

If you have a complaint against an RMIF member garage, the RMIF's National Conciliation Service should be able to help you get redress, if the problem cannot be solved in direct consultation with that member.

To find a garage that is a member of the RMIF visit www.rmif.co.uk and use the 'Find a Service' function. You will also find details of RMIF members that sell new and used cars or motorcycles, provide vehicle servicing and repair, and sell petrol.

Motorists can also use the RMIF Consumer Motorline - 08457 58 53 50

This will enable you to find all RMIF members mentioned above, and in addition vehicle auctioneers and cherished number plate dealers.

Breaking up ain't hard to do

Responsible drivers scrap their vehicles
at an Authorised Treatment Facility (ATF)

Because only an ATF can legally scrap a vehicle. That means any pollutants will be made safe before it's recycled in an environmentally friendly way.

What's more, for certain types of vehicle you'll get a DVLA approved Certificate of Destruction (CoD). A CoD proves that the ATF has told DVLA your vehicle has been scrapped and so is no longer your responsibility.

End of the road? Get over it and move on with your local ATF.

CAMBRIDGESHIRE COUNTY COUNCIL
(Bythorn Road, Covington)(TEMPORARY PROHIBITION OF THROUGH TRAFFIC)
ORDER 2009

NOTICE is given that Cambridgeshire County Council intends within seven days, to make an Order pursuant to the Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984, as amended by the Road Traffic (Temporary Restrictions) Act 1991, the effect of which is to stop any vehicle from proceeding along Bythorn Road, Covington as lies between its junctions with Tilbrook Grange Road, Covington and B663 Raunds Road, Keyston.

Access will be maintained to properties affected by this order.

The alternative route for vehicles is From Keyston B663 - Tilbrook Road, Kimbolton B645 - Covington and vice versa.

The proposed Order is made to facilitate culvert replacement works which are being carried out on or near this highway and it will come into operation on 15th June 2009 and continue until those works have finished or to the 14th December 2009 which ever is the earlier.

It is anticipated that these works will be carried out between 0800hrs and 1600hrs 15th June to 18th June 2009

BOXING

Goodjohn's looking for redemption

TYLER Goodjohn aims to make up for his Junior ABA disappointment at a show in Romford tomorrow.

The Haddenham hitter failed to defend his title after being knocked out in the quarter-finals earlier this month.

But he hopes to bounce back in a rematch against Billy Droham having already beaten the Finchley ABC fighter.

Coach Mike Sawyer said: "Droham is a very strong boy and he has got a lot of bottle. Tyler is up for his last fight of the season, though, and he's still looking fit and sharp."

Priest off to a flying start for Fen Tigers

MILDENHALL moved above King's Lynn into second in the National League table after winning a thrilling and closely-fought derby thanks to a superb all-round team display on Sunday.

New signing Luke Priest made an instant impact with with an impressive debut that included three straight wins and a heat 15 nomination.

Barrie Evans and David Mason were also on top form with paid 21 points between them.

Oliver Rayson stepped up into the main body and looked at home with a gutsy paid nine return, while Dean Felton was again consistent in the middle order and Joe Jacobs recovered from a broken chain while in second in his fifth ride to secure a win in his final race during a busy evening for the teenager.

The meeting was held up for an hour after Jamie Smith, who hit the first bend safety fence in a heat three smash, was taken to hospital for X-rays on a suspected fractured pelvis.

His brother Darren, the Tigers' other new signing, accompanied him out of concern, leaving both sides a rider short.

The result remained undecided until heat 14 after a succession of seven shared races.

Felton and Jacobs took advantage of Scott Campos' fall after having starred for the Barracudas with three wins in a 15-point haul.

Mildenhall – Evans 11+1 (5 rides), Priest 11 (5), Mason 8+1 (4), Rayson 7+2 (4), Jacobs 7+1 (7), Felton 5+3 (4), D Smith 0 (1).

King's Lynn – Campos 15 (7 rides), Allott 12 (5), Mallett 8+1 (5), Scarboro 2+1 (4), Widman 2 (4), Lowe 1+1 (4), J Smith 0 (1).

Heading into Sunday's clash, the first back-to-back West Row showdowns with top-of-the-table contenders, the second coming against Weymouth this Sunday, Tigers team boss John Adams said: "We're still on course for the play-offs as the cream is now starting to rise to the top."

"We have these two big meetings and then go to Buxton, and I would like to think we are capable of winning all three to keep with the pace-setters."

Ups and downs: Darren Smith, one of the Tigers' new signings, went to hospital with his brother, who was injured racing for the opposition.

ROWING

Close call: Ely's Ellie Milne, second from left, with St Neots crew-mates from the silver-medal winning crew.

Milne's successful switch

ELY Rowing Club sculler Ellie Milne showed her versatility with an impressive switch to a coxless four at the National Schools Rowing Championships, but suffered heartache when her crew was pipped for first on the finish line.

Milne linked up with St Neots trio Polly Hetherington, Beth Astell and Natalie Bream and looked strong for the three-quarters of the race, leading by two seconds at the 500m and 1000m marks.

But rivals Lady Eleanor Holles began to pull back and clinched gold by just 0.4sec at the finish.

St Neots coach Martyn Rooney said: "Obviously the girls are disappointed not to win, but they raced to plan and rowed well as a newly formed crew."

It was only the third time the crew had been out on the water together.

Milne is now looking forward to racing in the four again and has her sights set on competing at Henley in July.

She said: "We'll need to up our game and really work hard."

Jackson takes it easy to stop record-breaker

SETTING a lake record was not enough for Simon Easey as Steve Jackson triumphed in the two-day match at Headfen Lakes Fishery. Easey reeled in 94 carp from the right-hand margin of Snake Lake to weigh in a stunning 194lb 12oz on Sunday at the Little Downham venue. But Jackson secured second and third-placed finishes to end the weekend with three points, pipping Downham Market's Ray Cook to top spot.

Details – Saturday: Snake Lake: 1 Ray Cook (Downham Market) 94lb 4oz, 2 Keith Westerby (Headfen Lakes) 78-12. Trev's Lake: 1 Tim Dabrowa (Browning Hot Rods) 67-13, 2 Steve Jackson (Headfen Lakes) 50-14. Sunday: Snake Lake: 1 Simon Easey (Fox Match Stanjay) 194-12, 2 Marcus Bailey (Headfen Lakes) 171-14. Trev's Lake: 1 John Millard (Cambridge Albion) 31-8, 2 Pete Lambdin (Garbolino) 30-7.

Overall: 1 Steve Jackson (Headfen Lakes) 3pts and 168lb 5oz, 2 Ray Cook (Downham Market) 3pts and 118-7, 3 Keith Westerby (Headfen Lakes) 3pts and 106-14.

■ Shaun Greatbatch enticed 61lb 4oz of mainly carp from the margins at Hilgay's Dents Farm to win Littleport AC's final match of the closed season.

Second place went to Adrian Crane, who landed 35-5 on the pole, while third-placed Nicola Plumb captured two specimens for 25lb from peg 27.

Details – 1 Shaun Greatbatch (Littleport) 61lb 4oz, 2 Adrian Crane (Littleport) 35-5, 3 Nicola Plumb (Littleport) 25lb.

The club's match season on the Ouse at Littleport starts on June 21, with their new match committee looking to organise fixtures at several other venues. Non-members will be allowed to take part by paying an additional £1 fee. Further details from Iain Vigar on 07789 111491.

MULTISPORT

New format for triathlon

Ely's annual triathlon event is being given a new lease of life this year.

For the first time ever, the challenge will be an individual triathlon rather than a team relay.

The popular children's aquathlon will be held at the same time and is expected to attract up to 100 youngsters.

The 2009 Triathlon and Aquathlon will be run at The King's School, Ely on Sunday, September 6.

Organised by Ely's swimming, cycling and running clubs, this year's event has already secured additional sponsorship, helping to make it even more exciting than before.

Event organiser Kevin Chalmers said: "We have been humbled by the generosity of local businesses and the two Rotary Clubs, who have pledged to support this community sporting event once again.

"Each year we have had more and more kids entering, and so we are hoping for a record number of entries this year.

"After holding the triathlon event as a relay for the last three years, we had several requests for an individual event.

"It is not just an event for hardened athletes and we already have entries from people wanting a new challenge and from others just wanting to join in the fun!"

The triathlon will follow the same format as in previous years – 400m swim, 25km cycle and 5km run – but as an individual event.

Specsavers in Ely, a key event sponsor from the very start four years ago, has once again signed up to support the event, as has The Paradise Centre.

The Mayor of Ely, Richard Hobbs, has also pledged £100 from the Mayor's Fund for the fourth time.

Joining them this year as event sponsors are Tesco, Rotary Club – Littleport, Rotary Club – Ely, Petrou Brothers, Ray Owen at The Art & Design Studio and Helen Ball at the Bespoke Framing Workshop.

The aquathlon is once again open to all local schoolchildren.

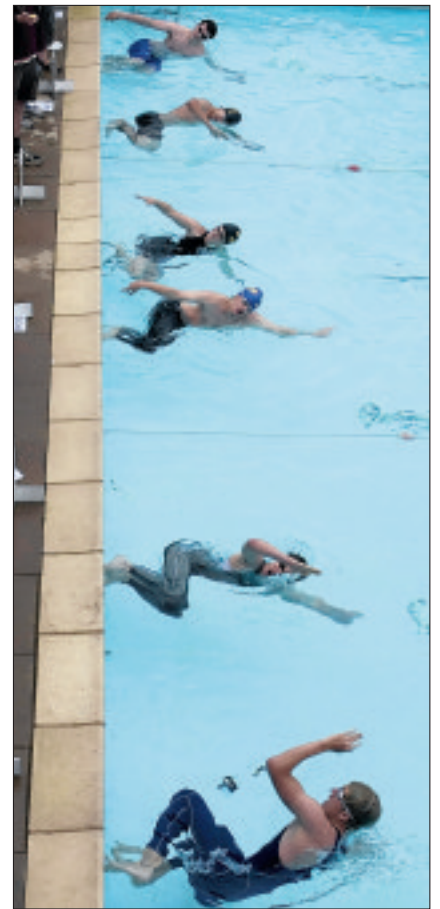

The race involves a swim of 100m (four lengths) followed by a run around the King's School playing field (approx 800m).

Boys and girls aged from nine to 16 will be competing for medals in three age groups.

Entry forms for both races will be available from Specsavers in Ely High Street from July 1.

Kids can enter the aquathlon for free and there is a £5 entry fee for the triathlon (entrants must be over 16).

There will also be a barbecue, refreshments and an ice cream van on the day, with Heart FM providing music and commentary to keep everyone informed of the competitors' progress.

Out of the blocks: Action from last year's event.

FOOTBALL

Rovers boss 'Beach event

HADDENHAM Rovers Under-13s completed a fine season by winning the Waterbeach five-a-side tournament on Sunday.

After losing their opening game to Cherry Hinton A, Haddenham never looked back, starting with a 2-0 win against Waterbeach P, with goals from Kieran Drummond and Alex Lowe.

Rovers drew 0-0 with Cottenham, where Jake Bartolozzi was outstanding in defence, and then won 2-1 against Cherry Hinton B, with Rowan Shergold and Lowe getting the goals.

Lowe and Shergold again did the damage in a 2-1 win over Waterbeach A, with Tyrell Barrett causing total chaos in the opposition defence.

Haddenham needed a penalty shoot-out win to overcome Cottenham in the semi-final although this was a fair outcome to the game, with Matthew Morton inspirational in goal.

They met Cherry Hinton A in the final and were out to avenge their earlier defeat, and goals from Drummond and John Falconer secured a 2-0 triumph.

Haddenham: Matthew Morton, John Falconer, Kieran Drummond, Jake Bartolozzi, Rowan Shergold, Tyrell Barrett, Alex Lowe.

ATHLETICS

Sayers a doubt

Setback: Goldie Sayers has suffered a stress fracture in her lower back.

GOLDIE Sayers faces a battle against time to keep her IAAF World Championship javelin medal hopes alive.

The former King's School, Ely student – now living and training in Cambridge – was on course to cement her place as one of the best throwers in the world in Germany, to follow her displays at last year's Olympics.

But Sayers has suffered a big setback after being diagnosed with a partial stress fracture of her lower back, which looks set to keep her on the sidelines for six weeks.

And that will raise question marks over her participation at the world championships in Berlin, from August 15 to 23.

"I'm gutted to have picked up an injury at this stage of the season, particularly as I was in such good shape," said Sayers.

"The injury itself is not too bad, but the timing is.

"However, I have every confidence in the team I work with to make a full recovery and we are all working cautiously towards a two-fold goal.

"Primarily, it is to ensure the fracture is fully healed and does not have any lingering affect on my progression towards being at my peak for London 2012.

"Secondly, it is to make all feasible yet safe preparations for this summer's world championships in Berlin, which I still believe is a realistic goal.

"Training had been progressing well and I am keeping a positive frame of mind that 2009 can still be a successful year for me."

Sayers is one of the favourites for a podium place in Berlin after her performance at the Beijing Olympics, when she set a British record 65.75m on her way to fourth place.

And the 26-year-old thrower made a promising start to her season at the Loughborough International in mid-May when she threw 59.77m.

But that will remain her only event until at least the middle of July.

Sayers has been ruled out of next week's Super8 competition in Cardiff, the European Team Championships in Leiria, Portugal, on June 20 and 21 and the Aviva UK Championships and World Championship Trials in Birmingham from July 10 to 12.

CRICKET

Wallace puts up small resistance

MISERLY Mark Ainslie was the scourge of City of Ely as he helped Hardwick & Caldecote record a six-wicket win in CCA Senior League, Division Two.

The all-rounder picked up 4 for 12 from 11 overs and was ably assisted by Viraj Andrabadu (2 for 19) and Anil Waduge (2 for 35) to leave Ely all out for 136. Jonny Wallace top-scored with 25.

Ainslie then opened the batting and got Hardwick's reply off to a solid start with 25, before John Allen (43 not out) and Bill O'Reilly (34 not out) guided them to 139 for 4.

Chris Reay was the pick of the visiting bowlers with 3 for 19.

Anthony Palmer and Peter Munns joined forces to destroy Great Shelford and steer Chatteris to a six-wicket success in Division Three.

The former claimed fine figures of 6 for 18, and the latter picked up 4 for 20, while opener Thomas Barnard (52) was the only man able to put up some resistance as the visitors were all out for 109.

Paul Ellum (3 for 25) did his best to give Great Shelford hope, but Alexander Platt (40 not out) and Stephen Stroud (24 not out) ensured Chatteris reached 110 for 4.

Ian Baldwin reached his century and shared two sizeable stands to steer Fordham II to a 31-run win at Wilburton in Cricket Stick CCA Junior League, Division 2A.

He struck 16 boundaries in his 103 and put on 119 with Neil Clark (57) and 81 in just 25 minutes with Andy Cornwell as they reached 243 for 4.

Ian Jacobs (72) gave the hosts hope, but Phil Dean (3 for 8) helped dismiss them for 213.

Callum Steele did his bit in both innings as Witcham II overcame Bluntisham by 74 runs in 4A.

The promising youngster's 40 was added to by Lloyd Few (31) as the victors got 177 all out.

And he then collected 3 for 17 to help bowl Bluntisham out for 103.

Chatteris II gained revenge for the opening-day defeat to Bar Hill II with a 37-run triumph. Josh Grant hit 38 and Malc Perry 26 as Chatteris reached 175 for 9. Joe Mennary (2 for 12) and Matt Hollis (2 for 16) then helped bowl out Bar Hill for 138.

Tyler Phillips took 5 for 21 and Michael Hook struck 84 as Witcham crushed Cherry Hinton by 174 runs in the Junior Cup.
